ABOUT ME

25-year-old Full Stack Developer student, technology lover. Among my interests are cinema, photography, statistics, music, cryptocurrencies, architecture and of course computer science. I currently live in Rosario, where I study, but my childhood and adolescence were spent in the neighboring town of Pavón Arriba. I am usually very curious, orderly and detailed. My studies in architecture taught me to work in a team and seek constant improvement and efficiency. Interested in progressing within the workplace to develop personally and continue growing.
